

IRO Certificate #4599

NOTICE OF INDEPENDENT REVIEW DECISION

July 24, 2003

Re: IRO Case # M2-03-1398

Texas Worker's Compensation Commission:

___ has been certified as an independent review organization (IRO) and has been authorized to perform independent reviews of medical necessity for the Texas Worker's Compensation Commission (TWCC). Texas HB. 2600, Rule 133.308 effective January 1, 2002, allows a claimant or provider who has received an adverse medical necessity determination from a carrier's internal process, to request an independent review by an IRO.

In accordance with the requirement that TWCC assign cases to certified IROs, TWCC assigned this case to ___ for an independent review. ___ has performed an independent review of the proposed care to determine if the adverse determination was appropriate. For that purpose, ___ received relevant medical records, any documents obtained from parties in making the adverse determination, and any other documents and/or written information submitted in support of the appeal.

The case was reviewed by a physician who is Board Certified in Neurological Surgery. He or she has signed a certification statement attesting that no known conflicts of interest exist between him or her and any of the treating physicians or providers, or any of the physicians or providers who reviewed the case for a determination prior to referral to ___ for independent review. In addition, the certification statement further attests that the review was performed without bias for or against the carrier, medical provider, or any other party to this case.

The determination of the ___ reviewer who reviewed this case, based on the medical records provided, is as follows:

History

The patient is a 44-year-old female who on ___ was pulled to the ground by students. She developed lumbar and cervical pain. This led to a lumbar laminectomy with fusion on 8/1/02. The patient's neck pain has persisted and extends into the right upper extremities. An MRI on 11/5/02 showed multiple levels of potential chronic problems that may be associated with nerve root compression.

Requested Service(s)

Bilateral upper extremity EMG/NCV

Decision

I disagree with the carrier's decision to deny the requested treatment.

Rationale

EMGs frequently show "subclinical" evidence of nerve root compression, that is, evidence of pressure which could not be determined based on examination results such as reflex, sensory or motor deficits. If EMG shows that a particular area is involved, then attention to that level may be beneficial in reaching conclusions regarding a therapeutic approach to the patient's problem.

This medical necessity decision by an Independent Review Organization is deemed to be a Commission decision and order.
